PRAETORIAN MAKES GOOD

YOUNG RACER THAT HAD RUN DISAPPOINTINGLY WINS JUVENILE STAKES.

Grover Hughes Beats Good Ones in Overnight Handicap—Forehead Again Wins for J. B. Respass

—Another Day of Close Finishes.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—J. N. Camden's Praetorian, of which much was expected earlier in the season, finally made good when he scored a well-merited success today in the Juvenile Stakes, in which sixteen young racers made up the field. Unlike in his former starts, he was away in a forward position, remained close to the leaders during the first three furlongs and, under keen urging, got up in the final strides to beat Calisse. The latter showed her usual early speed, but weakened perceptibly near the close, although she held second place secure over Alamitos, which, coupled with Guarandola, constituted the Henderson & Hogan entry. The big band of starters made crowding in the race unavoidable and most of those that tried conclusions were unable to show to their best form on account of frequent interference. Azyade, the favorite, was on the extreme outside and her early efforts to get into a contending position after going around the others from a slow beginning caused her to tire finally. Presumption was another that would have been a prominent factor with an equal break in the racing luck. The gross value of the stake was $1,500, of which $1,170 was the winner's net portion.

Close finishes were again the rule this afternoon and the interesting sport was immensely enjoyed by a big attendance. The even caliber of some of the starters in the different races caused a big volume of speculation, the operators in all the mutual machines being kept at top speed to handle the wagers. The handicap at six furlongs, which brought out some shifty sprinters, including Melisande and King's Daughter, furnished an upset by the victory of Grover Hughes over Ethel D., starting for the first time this season, with King's Daughter just outlasting Melisande for third money. Melisande, because of her splendid performance in the Louisville Handicap last Saturday, when she was beaten by Ocean Bound, was deemed to hold her opposition safe and was made a strong favorite near place time, but Goose made the mistake of trying to place her during the early part and the move proved fatal for she is essentially a front runner and could not respond to urging in the stretch. Ethel D. showed high early speed, but the more lightly weighted Grover Hughes found but little trouble in drawing away from her in the final furlong.

Hugh McCarron won his first purse of the meeting when Camel, the mainstay of his stable, got home after a furious drive to dispose of Bad News. The latter was in a running mood today and clung tenaciously to Camel during the stretch drive. H. K. Knapp's Sprite, a newcomer heretofore, made a show of those that started in the second race and won with ease from Camella and Madam Phelps. Peeping, owned by W. H. Laudemann, was the supposed good thing of the race, but whatever chance she may have had went glimmering soon after the start, when Jockey Martin had to take back, because of Camella's action in cutting sharply across.

J. B. Respass again scored when Forehead won the fifth race, with Oracle in second place and Ben Lasca third. Oracle met with much interference during the race or he might have given the winner a much stouter argument. If Forehead retains his present good form, he may be a starter in the Latonia Derby.

The closing race enabled trainer James Fitzsimmons to keep up his good record begun earlier in the meeting, by adding another first to his list when Superstition, owned by W. L. Maupin, of Washington, D. C., beat a useful lot of platers in game style. Stone Street got the place in the final stride from Petronius. The latter was best, but the weak ride he received from J. Glass proved his undoing. Jockey E. Martin, who only recently served a ten-days' suspension for riding, was suspended by the starter for five days for disobedience at the post.

The judges, after suspending Jockey Rooney for five days for rough riding, rescinded their ruling on the boy's plea that he would not again be an offender.

The fortunate mutual combination players received good returns for their investments this afternoon. The holders of tickets on Camel and Sprite got $121.60 for $2, while those having tickets on Grover Hughes, Forehead and Superstition received $242.25 for $2.

G. W. Berry, who has charge of the horses owned by Adolph Spreckels, has changed his plans and will send the entire stable to Latonia instead of to Salt Lake, as formerly announced.

Prior to the running of the fifth race J. O. Keene and J. W. Parrish of Midway, Ky., became involved in an altercation and exchanged blows. Parrish was somewhat the worse for the mixup. It is thought that the officials will take a hand in the affair tomorrow.

Thomas W. Flynn announced today that he has secured the services of Jockey T. Koerner to pilot Starry Night in the Latonia Derby. Mud Still will likely be handled by R. Goose.

Floral Day was withdrawn from the Juvenile Stakes because of her trainer's inability to secure a competent rider for her.

Pinkola and Boca Grande are going soundly in their training and are receiving a steady preparation with a view to being campaigned at Latonia. H. B. Duryea's colors were seen for the first time this season on a Kentucky track and were carried by Belfast. The colt is being handled by J. Simon Healy, who has Capt. E. B. Cassatt's horses in charge.

Thomas F. Ryan sent to the post in the second race a flashy-looking filly in Belle Hampton. She ran greenly and will show improvement when she becomes accustomed to racing.

The diminutive H. Skirvin carried off the riding honors with a pair of victories. Unlike his elder brother, who rode with mediocre success for a period and is at present serving in the United States army, this youngster gives every indication of becoming a useful rider with maturity. He is only fourteen years of age and weighs seventy-one pounds.

Among this morning's work-outs, track fast, were the following:

GREATEST RACE OF THE WORLD FOR THREE-YEAR-OLD FILLIES

The American Epsom Derby candidates of this year were not fleet enough to figure in the first three when that great race was decided last Wednesday, but there is one in the Epsom Oaks which will be decided this afternoon, that may make amends for Derby disappointments. This one is H. P. Whitney's grand filly, Bashiti. He gave $30,000 for her last year expressly because of her engagement in the Oaks and she has had a long and steady preparation for the event, no accident or sickness interrupting her training for a day. Just as Novelty was certainly the best American two-year-old colt of last year, equally unmissably was Bashiti our best filly and there will be real disappointment felt on this side of the Atlantic if she fails to at least finish in the first three today.

The Oaks is a year older in history than the Derby, having first been run in 1779, when it was won by Lord Derby's Herod filly, Bridget. Three of its winners were previously successful in the Derby, Sir Charles Bunbury's Eleanor in 1801, W. I. Anson's ever famous Blink Bonny in 1857 and Chevalier Ginstrelli's Signoretta in 1908; while eleven Oaks winners were subsequently triumphant in the Doncaster St. Leger, this illustrious band being Queen of Trumps in 1835, Formosa in 1868, Hannah in 1871, Marie Stuart in 1873, Apology in 1874, Jannette in 1878, Sealreze in 1888, Memoir in 1890, La Fleche in 1892, Sceptre in 1902 and Pretty Polly in 1904. One good American filly, Cap and Bells, was taken over to England after a successful campaign as a two-year-old in this country and won the Oaks in 1901, a precedent in favor of Bashiti. No other American-bred filly shares with Cap and Bells the distinction of having won the Epsom Oaks, but after today one may. Unlike the Derby, the Oaks is not the medium of ante-post betting and, outside of the precedent of the One Thousand Guineas, there is little in a public way to indicate the favorite in advance of the event. Ateneah's good race in the One Thousand will probably establish her in that position. The record of the race of races for three-year-old fillies since 1850 is as follows:
